POLITY AND GOVERNANCE

1.1. The Constitution (One Hundred and Thirtieth Amendment) Bill, 2025

Why in the News?

Union Home Minister introduced the Constitution (130th Amendment) Bill, 2025 in Lok Sabha.

More on the News

- ➔ Bill provides for removal of PM, CM or Ministers in Centre, States and Delhi if held in custody 30 consecutive days for serious offences.
 - ➔ Proposes amendments to Articles 75, 164, 239AA of the Constitution.
- ➔ Similar provisions extended to Puducherry through the Government of Union Territories (Amendment) Bill, 2025.
- ➔ J&K Reorganization (Amendment) Bill, 2025 applies the same to its CM/Ministers, empowering the LG.
- ➔ All three Bills referred to Joint Parliamentary Committee (JPC) for examination.

Key provisions of Constitution Amendment Bill, 2025

- ➔ Grounds for Removal: Union Minister, CM, or State Minister removed if arrested and detained for 30 consecutive days for an offence punishable with 5 or more years imprisonment. Applies to Prime Minister also.
- ➔ Procedure for Removal:
 - ➔ Union Ministers (except PM): President removes Minister on PM's advice by 31st day; if no advice, Minister ceases office automatically.
 - ➔ State Ministers (except CM): Governor acts on CM's advice similarly; auto removal if no advice.
 - ➔ Delhi Ministers (except CM): President acts on Delhi CM's advice; auto removal applies.
 - ➔ PM/CMs (Union/State/Delhi): Must resign by 31st day of custody; else cease office automatically from next day.
- ➔ Reappointment: Allowed after release from custody.

Arguments in Favor of the Bill	Arguments Against the Bill
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➔ Constitutional Morality: SC in Manoj Narula said Ministers with serious charges should be avoided. ➔ Public Trust: The Bill shows strong action against corruption. ➔ Good Governance: Stops "governance from jail" and improves accountability. ➔ Bridges Legal Gap: Covers period between arrest and conviction. ➔ Fairness: Govt employees suspended after 48 hrs in custody; Ministers should face same rules. ➔ Additional: Promotes fairness in parties and balance against fake arrests. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➔ Political Misuse: Agencies like ED and CBI may misuse arrest powers. ➔ Innocent Until Proven: Removal happens on detention, not conviction. This breaks legal principles. ➔ Inconsistent: MPs lose seat after conviction, Ministers lose office after arrest only. ➔ Revolving Door: Ministers may resign and return repeatedly, causing instability. ➔ Politicization: Removal can be misused by PM or CM to target rivals. ➔ No Safeguards: No relief for wrongful arrests; misuse of tough laws like UAPA likely: Convictions are few

Existing legal framework and Judgments for disqualification after crimes

- Representation of the People Act, 1951 (RPA): Section 8(3) disqualifies legislators upon conviction for crimes with imprisonment of two years or more.
- Lily Thomas (2013) judgment: SC struck down Section 8(4), which shielded sitting members from disqualification by filing appeals.
- Manoj Narula v. Union of India (2014): Court said no legal bar on Ministers with criminal past but PM should avoid appointing such individuals, especially for serious offenses.
- PIL of Public Interest Foundation (2018): Courts can't add disqualification grounds; Parliament should legislate to make parties revoke membership and deny tickets to serious criminals.
- Election Commission of India (2016): Recommended amending RPA to bar persons charged with offences punishable by five or more years from contesting elections.

Way Forward

- Interim Suspension: Suspend Ministers during trials, not remove.
- Party Role: Parties should not pick candidates with criminal records.
- Law Commission: Disqualify on charge framing for offences ≤ 5 years after judicial check.
- Bail Rule: Bail should be default except heinous crimes.
- Fast-track Trials: Speed up serious cases against Ministers.
- Independent Review: E.g., Tribunal to check removals, prevent misuse.

9.1. Trust in Public Institutions

Introduction

Allegations of political misuse of bodies like ECI, ED, and CBI have raised concerns over eroding trust in India's public institutions. UN World Social Report 2025 shows global institutional trust decline; over half the population now has little or no trust in governments, based on 1995–2022 survey data.

What is meant by Trust?

- ➔ OECD defines trust as belief that institutions or individuals act consistently with positive expectations.
 - ➔ Trust underpins the social contract, crucial for governance with clear understanding of its nature, drivers, and consequences.
- ➔ Types of Trust:
 - ➔ Horizontal: Among community members.
 - ➔ Vertical: In governing institutions.
 - ➔ Social: Generalized trust in strangers.
 - ➔ Political: Confidence in institutions and actors.

Stakeholders and their Interests in maintaining Trust in Public Institutions

Stakeholder	Interest
Citizens	Efficient services, public participation, well-being, stability.
Government	Legitimate policy making, compliance, effective enforcement, smoother governance.
Civil Society & Media	Freedom of expression, rights advocacy.
Private Sector	Predictable regulations, fair competition, reduced corruption, entrepreneurship

Reasons behind erosion of Trust in Public Institutions

- ➔ Administrative non-performance: Poor service quality, unresponsiveness and abuse of authority. (2nd ARC)
- ➔ Economic Insecurity: Failure to provide economic security erodes the social contract, with less secure groups reporting lower trust. (UNDESA)
- ➔ Political Exclusion: Marginalized groups' limited influence restricts their ability to demand better policies or services.
- ➔ Scandals and Corruption: Undermine trust by suggesting institutions prioritize self-interest over public good.
- ➔ Disinformation and Social Media: Amplifies perceived failures, manipulates views, and questions election legitimacy.
- ➔ Inefficient Judicial systems: Weakens rule of law and limits remedies for grievances against institutions.

Major Drivers of Trust in Public Institutions

Competencies
Reliability	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Protection in emergencies, legitimate data use, satisfaction with services.
Responsiveness	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Services improved via feedback, innovation, evidence-based decisions.
Values
Transparency	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Accessible information, citizen participation, clear reforms.
Integrity	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Accountability among government branches.
Fairness	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Equal treatment in services, benefits, and representation of diverse groups.

Measures to improve Trust in Public Institutions

- ➔ Foster citizen engagement: Through policymaking like Social Audit.
- ➔ Consistent implementation: Improving service delivery E.g., DBT.
- ➔ Promoting transparency: Through open data and dashboards.
- ➔ Uphold ethical governance: With equity and focus on marginalized groups.
- ➔ Establish independent anti-corruption bodies: E.g., Lokpal and Lokayukta.
- ➔ Strengthen institutional frameworks: With parliamentary – executive harmony and independent judiciary.
- ➔ Address misinformation using technology: Adopting governance models like Fact Checking Units.

Conclusion

Trust is vital for society and representative democracy; its erosion signals a “crisis of democracy,” undermining institutions, actors, and democratic quality.

9.2. Ethics of Stray Dog Management

Introduction

In 2024, 37 lakh dog bite cases were reported; India leads global rabies deaths. Supreme Court ruled vaccinated stray dogs be released, stressing balance between animal protection and citizen safety.

Key Stakeholders and Invested interest

Stakeholders	Interest
Residents	Fundamental duty of compassion (Art. 51A(g)), but face safety, health risks; vulnerable groups like children and elderly at higher risk.
Pet Owners	Contribute via abandonment; solutions through responsible ownership and stray management support.
Government Agencies	Vaccination, sterilization, stray control; municipal responsibility (Art. 243W, 246); NCDC targets rabies elimination by 2030 under NAPRE .
Supreme Court	Balancing public health and animal rights.
Animal Welfare Organizations	Promote care models, oppose culling; AWBI issues revised ABC module .

Ethical Values in Conflict in Management of Stray Dogs

- ➔ Compassion vs. Public Safety: Feeding sustains strays but may increase aggression.
- ➔ Animal Rights vs. Human Rights: Animals’ right to live (Art. 21, Jallikattu Case 2014) conflicts with humans’ right to safety, property, and fear-free spaces.

- ➔ Kant vs Utilitarianism: Kant demands dignity for animals, opposing utilitarian sacrifice for human convenience.
- ➔ Non-Maleficence Dilemma: Solutions must minimize harm to humans and animals, often unmet in practice.
- ➔ Rights-Duties Paradox: Though animals lack duties, vulnerability and sentience justify rights, similar to infants or the disabled.

Ways for Ethical Management of Stray Dogs

- ➔ Principle of Beneficence: Promote welfare of humans and animals through proactive interventions. Animal Birth Control (ABC) Rules, 2023 focus on sterilization/vaccination; Netherlands encourages shelter adoptions via higher dog taxes.
- ➔ Proportionality & Graduated Response: Actions must match risks, based on evidence, starting with least harmful measures; e.g., SC ordered shelters, sterilization after rabies spike in Delhi-NCR.
- ➔ Virtue Ethics: Cultivating compassion, responsibility, and community engagement for sustainable practices.
- ➔ National Rabies Control Program: Phased rabies prevention in Tier-1/2 cities, with strengthened surveillance.
- ➔ Local Bodies and Volunteers: Empower RWAs, NGOs, and citizen support for dog management.

Conclusion

Stray dog management requires a multi-stakeholder approach involving local bodies, communities, and animal rights groups, aligning with the One Health framework.
